Calling All Members – We Need Your Support

We had a great annual meeting this June, and I truly appreciate the financial support that was pledged there by many NAPIA firms in support of our legal and legislative efforts. These members understand that we are addressing serious issues that have arisen in states across the country as a result of the numerous storms and natural disasters that have occurred this year. The Governor's recent emergency proclamation in Missouri -- which has a major effect on public adjuster fees, rights of rescission and, consequently, the ability of consumers and commercial insureds to retain our services -- is just one example of the types of regulations that can impact our profession.

To those firms which have contributed, we thank you. To all those not yet participating, please consider making a pledge. We are now dealing with issues in Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri and other states, and your involvement is vital to protecting the integrity of the profession and our ability to practice public adjusting.

I will be travelling to many of these states for meetings over the next few months and I will keep members apprised of developments as well as the status of any new or pending legislation and/or regulation.

NAPIA member dues can only go so far. To work with good lawyers and lobbyists in these states, we need your help. Thank you for contributing during this critical time.
